Entering and Certifying a Rank Order List

Main Residency Match

Users: Main Residency Match Applicants

Note: This Entering and Certifying a Rank Order List guide explains how to complete this task using a mobile device. The menu options are the same whether using a desktop or mobile device.

The NRMP matching algorithm uses the preferences expressed in the rank order lists submitted by applicants and program directors to place individuals into program positions.

Guidelines for Preparing a Rank Order List (Main Residency Match):

1. The matching algorithm attempts to place you in the most preferred program possible, so rank programs in order of your true preference and not where you think you will match.
2. Rank ONLY those programs where you are able and willing to train. Placing a program on your rank order list (ROL) creates a binding commitment if a match occurs, so review carefully each program's eligibility requirements and the contract you will be expected to sign.
3. Do not rank programs where you did not interview. Programs do not rank candidates they have not interviewed, and no match will occur.
4. No more than 300 ranks can be placed on a ROL.

- Before creating your ROL, look up each program's code in the Registration, Ranking, and Results® (R3®) system. Refer to the Using the Program Directory guide for more information.
- Extra fees apply if you rank more than 20 unique program codes on a primary rank order list and more than 20 unique program codes on all supplemental lists combined and/or if a ROL is certified with 100 or more ranks. If a ROL is certified with additional ranks and/or more than 100 ranks, extra fees will be due at the time of certification. Extra rank fees and length of rank order list fees are NOT REFUNDABLE if a shorter list is certified at a later time. Refer to the NRMP website for current fee amounts.
- Your ROL will not be used when the matching algorithm is processed unless it has been certified and any extra rank fees have been paid. Remember to certify your list prior to the Rank Order List Certification Deadline.
